

Door in the Mountain

Never ran this hard through the valley never ate so many stars

I was carrying a dead deer tied on to my neck and shoulders

deer legs hanging in front of me heavy on my chest

People are not wanting to let me in

Door in the mountain
let me in

—Jean Valentine