

Truth

Sharing bread
is sharing life
but truth—
you ought to go to bed at night to hear the truth
strike
on the childhood clock
in your arms: the
cold house
a turned-over boat,
the walls
wet canvases...

—Jean Valentine